TEMPLE UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES SPRING PUBLIC PROGRAMS

ABOUT OUR PUBLIC PROGRAMS

Our programming seeks to Beyond the Page: Exploring the Cultural, Historical and Scholarly Record at Temple University Libraries. It is with great interest and excitement that we are welcoming you to our “page” of public programs this Spring.

ABOUT TEMPLE UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES

The Libraries’ mission is to support the Temple community through expertise in scholarship, teaching, and learning. Our collections of books, journals, and online resources support teaching and learning, research, and community service.

CO-SPONSORSHIPS

The Libraries support a number of additional lectures, forums and symposia across campus every academic year to build dialogues across campus.

BEGINNING DESIGN: A National Conference

Beginning Design Conference keynote speaker Brian MacKay-Lyons will present and launch the Beyond the Page: Exploring the Cultural, Historical and Scholarly Record at Temple University Libraries. MacKay-Lyons will also be to feature regional poets and editors and Robert Abrahams.
